DISTRESS IN LANCASHIRE.

The distress in Lancashire is every day assuming a more serious aspect. Two millious of people are dependent on the bread that comes from charity. This appalling fact tells on many more—indeed, it is felt through at the length and breadth of the land. Large sums are being sent both from private individuals and from societies. India has sent the first instainent of a large un. A father and sin are to give £100 per month for the next five months. The colleges have sent their quota. The Bishop of Oxford proposes to his diocese a general collection on their behalf. But yet the auxiety increases—the cold is coming on—fever is apprehended. Failing fever, says a writer in the Times, "famine goes on to run its own well marked course. With no real complaint developed, with little real pain, there is an increased lassitude in the adult, a want of all childish energy in the young—a species of patient, sullen despond-The distress in Lancashire is every day asyoung—a species of patient, sullen despond-ency masters the whole man. It is a mere matter of time—few, if any, recover—lew seem to wish it." THE GREAT EXHIBITION.

The International Exhibition closed on the 1st November, and is now open for a fortnight as a Bazaar. The articles are being removed, but in many cases are being replaced by things equally beautiful. The guarantors will not be called upon (as was at guarantors will not be called upon (as was at first feared) to pay any of the amount guaranteed. There will be a grand display when the Prince of Wales distributes the medals, which will take place a few days before the meeting of Parliament in January. Arrangements are being made to light the interior of the building with gas, which, if well done, will add greatly to the gorgeousness of the Scissors, Razors and Razor Strops seene.

With regard to American affairs, there Curling's Disinfecting Fluid; With legard to American affairs, there have been in some quarters expectations that Government would relax in their policy, but I believe that they will make no move in the matter, and that those who have thought it probable that Parliament would be called to probable that Parliament would be called to-gether in the winter to give power to any-thing of this sort, are mistaken. This I have on good authority, and, indeed, I do not think it likely that Her Majesty's ministers would deem it necessary to have the direct and for-mal assent of the two chambers, even if they should take so important a step as the recog-nition of the Southern Confederacy. From any processing solution of the war, we seem as lar as ever; and the American newspapes has peaceful solution of the war, we seem as give us very little idea of the true state of public opinion, and generally content themselves with exaggerated and particolored statements, and endeavor to keep up the excitement of their readers by all sorts of sensational intelligence, and the various other matters which are generally supplied to the craving mind of the Yankee, under the somewhat valgar, but expressive title of bunkum. what vulgar, but expressive title of 'bunkum. Of the Southern doings we hear still less Of the Southern doings we hear still less, and it is only when, in the Northern papers, we see reluctant confessions of how tough are the enemy, that we are informed of the fact that they are bravely fighting out their independence, and with the pluck which is so much appreciated by Englishmen, resisting to the last what they english the project that the project t ing to the last what they consider the unjust encroachments of their neighbors. Although necessarily poorer in pecuniary resources, an owing to small numbers less able to rais beavy and repeated sums of money, still they undoubtedly seem to possess better generals and statesmen who act with far more dis-cretion and teet than the vain-glorious beasters, who are constantly predicting their im-mediate defeat.

Continental News.

The Queen of Naples has fled from her lord. Her life—the past three years of her married life, we mean—cannot have been the life, we mean—cannot have been lengths, in 1 and 2 dozen cases; very happy, and strange stories are affoat of a rival to the King, who was husband only in name—of the violent death of the ambitious name—of the voicer death of the amorthous rival, and the consequent flight of the Queen. If all tales are true, the poor ex-Queen of Naples is not the only lady on whom the

M. Dronyn de Luybs has been appointed French Minister of Foreign Affairs, in the room of M. Thouvenel.

The Roman question seems farther removed from a happy settlement than ever, so far as the Emperor of the French is concerned. Perhaps the people of Italy will settle it for themselves.

REVOLUTION IN GREECE.

A bloodless revolution has been effected in A bloodless revolution has been effected in Greece. King Otho has abdreated and fled to Bavaria. He has never become indigenous to the soil. Thirty years ago the dynasty was formed, and there has been a constant succession of attempted revolutions and conspirácies. The Bavarian government intends, it is said, to invoke the treaty of Longard 1852 and the protocol of 1852 investigation. tends, it is said, to invoke the treaty of London of 1852 and the protocol of 1852 signed by France, England, Russia and Bavaria, reserving the succession to the throne of Greece to the Bavarian dynasty. Punch gives a most amusing conversation supposed to have taken place between the ex-King of Naples and the ex-King of Greece.

PRUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

King William I., of Prussia, has been asserting the divine right of kings. He says:

"It is exceedingly painful for a monarch to have his best intentions misinterpreted and disfigured. I hold fast by my oath—hold fast by my programme of 1858, which my conscience urged me to form—but the interpretation of that programme, I should think, can be given only by him who made it—and nothing must be discovered in it by others which I cannot admit to have been implied in my words." The people do not assent to this extraordinary doctrine, nor to what follows thereon—that they are to pay the taxes—he to spend the revenue as he pleases. is only to be supposed, however, that he will not fail to present his services in the most used so that the interests of the country suffer

he is to blame. What merit, then, can be claim for the manner in which the business in the Legislature has been brought to a ful him for the consequences resulting from it prorogation? No one who reflects for a mo ment upon the number of measures require

for the proper government and the advance

thinking that the Assembly might have been permitted to make use of all the time that re mained of their term, to effect whatever good lay in their power. But when we conside introduced, and required but little more to make them law, and that they all were sud-dealy burked by the act of the Governor, we cannot find words to characterize such con duct. People will talk and people will ask questions, and it cannot be denied that they have ample cause in the circumstances jus

Prepare to Register Your Votes.

The new year is at hand. No time is to be lost by those who would exercise the privileges of freemen and who can place themselve

in a position to do so. Between the first and fourteenth of January registration of votes must be the order of the day. The prepara-tion should not be delayed. If anything is necessary which yet can be done to place one in a position to claim registration, it ought to be seen to at once. No delay should occur in presenting claims. It won't do to put them off to the last moment. Let it be remembered that he who neglects to register

has no vote for the year, though he may be otherwise well qualified. And who would not have a vote now? Who is there who would see the colony progress, that would be

look after its interests, who make its laws,

and who impose taxation? If public affairs are mismanaged, who is to blame? If bad laws are passed, or if good ones are not introduced-if the public moneys are squan dered upon unworthy objects, what right have

they to complain, who could have chosen

good men to represent them, but neglected to do so? He who is qualified to register, but does not, can have nothing to say if our rep

CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, Dec. 29th. The Council met at 7 p. m.—Present, His Worship the Mayor, and Messis. Copland, Stronach, Searby, Reid, and Lewis. THE STREET TENDERS.

Mr. Searby, on behalf of the committee appointed to examine the plans and specifications of the City Surveyor, for the grading est adjacent streets streets, under the super-vision of the City Surveyor, in such manner that a portion of the expense of grading the same, at some future time, may be saved.

Mr. Copland considered the suggestions contained in the report very excellent, and moved that the recommendations of the noved that the recommendations of the committee be adopted.

The Mayor expressed himself as feeling gratified that the committee had not reported otherwise than in favor of the specifications, as he believed the City Surveyor to be eminently qualified for the duties of his office.

Mr. Copland said he saw no recommending in the convert for the contractors to be tions in the report for the contractors to be bound to keep the works in repair for a certain period.

Mr. Searby said the matter had been considered by the committee, and had concluded that if a road were made as it ought to be, no repairs would be required for the six or y the introduction of such a provision ould produce no satisfactory equivalent.

The motion of Mr. Copland was then car-The Mayor next informed the Counil that a tender for the above works had been received that day, and desired their opinion with regard to its reception.

Mr, Searby thought that accepting the ommunication as a bona fide tender, would be unjust toward the other contractors and moved that it be not received.

Not seconded.

Not seconded. Mr. Lewis could see no objection to its Mr. Lewis could see he objection to the being received. It might be a correction of a tender previously delivered. He moved that it be opened after the remainder.

Capt. Reid seconded the motion, and said he would like to hear it read. It might contain a bank-note or something equally desirable.

Messrs. Lewis, Reid, and Copland; noes, Messrs. Searby and Stronach.

The tenders received, to the number of eighteen, were then opened and read; also the communication received during the day, which proved to be from one of the con-tractors, asking leave to amend his previous Capt. Reid moved that the tenders be referred to a committee for examination with the assistance of the City Surveyor. Mr. Lewis suggested that it would effect a saving of time if the same committee were to draw up and report a blank form of

DRAINAGE.

DRAINAGE.

A communication from the City Surveyor drawing the attention of the Council to the necessity existing for provision to be made at an early period for the efficient drainage of the most densely populated portions of the city, was opened and read.

On motion of Mr. Stronach, the following resolution was carried:

resolution was carried:

That the City Surveyor be requested to furnish plans and specifications for a drain on either Fort, Yates, or Johnson streets, or in the ravine between Johnson and Cormorant streets; also to inform the Council in which of these streets sewers would drain the greatest amount of property and be most beneficial to the city.

MISCELLANEOUS. The Mayor inquired of the Committee upon

Ways and Means when they would be prepared to present their report.

Mr. Stronach apologized for the delay that had ensued, pointed out the important consideration the subject demanded, and promised to report on Monday next.

The Mayor suggested to the Council that some provision should be made for lighting Ways and Means when they would be pre-some provision should be made for lighting the city with gas, and more especially the establishment of lamps at the street corners.

Capt. Reid had long thought about the matter; but the more he saw of the gas the less he liked of it. The gas lights in town constantly went out without notice.

The Mayor said a special contract should be made with the gas company binding them to formile a proper sayuh!

to furnish a proper supply.

Mr. Copland said that if sidewalks were made good, and there were not so many man-traps, there would be less need of going to

NOTICES. Mr. Stronach gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that a committee be appointed to Jearn from the Gas Company upon what terms they would light the city.

Capt. Reid gave notice that he would move Capt. Reig gave notice that he would move that a supplementary assessment of Yates street, from Broad street to the water, be made for the purpose of introducing a main sewer; the assessment to be based upon the cost of the same, subject to a report to be made by the City Surveyor.

Also, that tenders be advertised, for re-generally, speak in the highest terms of the treatment they received from the captain and officers during the voyage, and the time spent on board passed over very agreeably. The ship did not call at any place on the trip, but made for this port, which she would have reached in an incredibly short time, but for adverse winds when rounding the Horn. The passengers are chiefly mercantile men, and some of them are likely to go into business in OBSTINATE .- The charge of larceny against Bolland (a Mexican boy), preferred by Messrs. Levi, came up on remand yesterday morning. The prisoner, who had everything explained to him by an interpreter, could not be persuaded to plead. He trist urged one excuss and then another; he was willing to let the magistrate settle the matter, and said that "if Mr. Pemberton found him guilty he would be guilty." Finding that he would not eay "guilty" he was finally remanded for one day, that he might make up his mind.

MAYOR'S COURT .- The case of Mr. W. B. Smith, who was summaned for causing a nuisance on premises adjoining his house on Government street, came up on remand yesterday morning. As the defendant consented to effect all necessary improvements under the directions of the City Surveyor and Inspector, the Mayor dismissed the summons on payment of the costs by the defendant.

Shooting Affray. James C. Chaffer was charged in the Poice Court, yesterday, with assaulting James Ibbotson, and coming to his house with a loaded rifle for the avowed purpose of shooting him, Mr. Bishop appeared for the prosecution.

A great deal of evidence was taken in the case, and many witnesses called in support of the charge. It seems that on Saturday morning the prisoner came to the house of the prosecutor and charged him with stealing a canoe, which he denied. He applied the grossest abuse to him, and threatened him that if the cance were not brought back before noon, he would make him "sorry for it appointed to examine the plans and specifications of the City Surveyor, for the grading if he had to pass six months in the chain-and macadamising of certain portions of Yates, Cook, and Johnson streets, reported as follows:—

That there are two large hallows in Vates. That there are two large hollows in Yates put out by some of prosecutor's friends. The complainant fearing these threats would be That there are two large hollows in Yates street, and also a portion of the ravine, on Johnson street, requiring to be filled up, and that there is one large catting to be made in Yates street—which, however, will be insufficient by several thousands of cubic yards to fill in the above-named hollow.

That in process of time, it will be needful to grade Broad and Douglas streets, and that a large quantity of earth will then have to be removed from the said streets, at considerable expense to the city.

After being repeatedly ordered to go out, he be removed from the said streets, at consulerable expense to the city.

That the said earth could, without inconvenience or additional cost to the contractor, be removed from Broad and Douglas streets to fill in the hollow in Yates and Johnson streets.

That the committee recommend that, in the event of any of the tenders now in the hands of the Council being accepted, it shall be stipulated in any contract that may be based thereupon, that the earth necessary to be based thereupon, that the earth necessary to the hollows above-mentioned, shall be foreigner. The prisoner was then given in fore finger. The prisoner was then given in charge.

Mr. Pemberton elicited from one of the wit was also proved that had he tried to escape in this way, he would most likely have been shot in the back, as the prisoner, who stood on the door-sill, covered with his weapon this Officer Thompson testified that he had taken the prisoner's rifle to a gunsmith, by whom the charge was withdraw,, and that it consisted of gunpowder and a ball. A cross-charge of assault and shooting with intent to kill, was then entertained against Ib The evidence in this case was simply a residered by the committee, and had concluded that if a road were made as it ought to be, no repairs would be required for the six or twelvemenths following the date of its completion, and that they believed the additional expense that would fall upon the Corporation by the introduction of such a provision by the introduction of such a provision that the same provision is such as a provision by the introduction of such a provision that the same provision is such as the same provision to the troops at Fort Steilacoon, and that he his trial came off. Some uppleasant questions were also asked as to the part he took in a shooting affray that occurred some time since at Whatcom. at Whatcom.

Mr. Pemberton, after the evidence in the hist case was concluded, convicted Chaffer of the charges preferred against him, sentencing him to a fine of £5 or two months' imprisor him to a line of £5 or two months impreson-ment for the assault; and, in respect of pre-senting the loaded weapon, ordered him to furnish his own recognisance for £100, with two sureties; in £50 each, to keep the peace for six months, or, in default, to six months' imprisonment.

The magistrate said, with regard to the

The magistrate said, with regard to the charge against Ibbotson, that he had exceeded the limit allowed by law in throwing the weights at Chaffer when he refused to leave his house, as it was illegal to use more than a necessary amount of force to eject a disorderly person. It was a very fortunate thing that the ball fired by him, as admitted, did not enter the body of Chaffer and cause his death. Can't say whether Cranford swore to my having read memorandum in April—time contract was not then mentioned. He didn't say that the goods were to be taken through in 10 or 12 days—no mention was then made of Williams Creek. John Cranford stated that he asked me at the Consulate the usual time for transporting goods on the Douglas road, and that I answered 10 or 12 days—I don't recoil lect it—if so, it was a mere remark in conversation, and didn't refer to the contract.
